For nearly 60 years, the Central Valley Community Foundation has helped big ideas take root—courageously, collaboratively, and with lasting impact.

We are a community foundation... but not the kind that writes a check and walks away.

We connect people, ideas, and dollars to the places where they'll do the most good.

We amplify impact by bringing everyone to the table, because real change takes all of us.

Through the generosity of our donors and funders, CVCF provided:
